After a brief gap of couple of years, we are once again kick starting IFFT Newsletter. During the interlude, our hive was brimming busily. We successfully waded the waves of pandemic fear and conducted the 4th edition of International Folklore Film Festival last year during January. Notwithstanding the restrictions, the IFFF came out successfully. The event was well received, though it was in a hybrid form – both online and offline. As a blessing in disguise, more young and passionate film enthusiasts joined our forum and we could utilize their tech-savvy approach to improve our interface.

We are keen on bringing out the Newsletter every month, henceforth regularly with periodical special issues. Events and activities of the IFFT, articles by movie activists, interviews with gamechangers and short film reviews shall appear in the issues. We also have plans to explore more laterally so as to dig out more relevant materials and to present them in the newsletter.

5TH EDITION JAN. 1-5

5th International Folklore Film Festival IFFF 2022 January 1-5

This month the newsletter comes out AS A special issue, focusing entirely on the 5th IFFF 2022 which is scheduled to be conducted for 5 days, starting from the New Year day. The festival is a joint endeavour of IFFT, Naattukalakaara Kootam, St. Thomas College Thrissur and Moovatupuzha Film Society.

The overwhelming response to our requests calling for entries is a gratifying indication of the receptivity of the Festival which is the outcome of half a decade of hard work. Compared to last year in which we had entries from 42 countries (not at all bad, given the disturbing pandemic fear) this time we received more than 2000 entries from 72 countries spread all over the globe representing 37% of the number of the nation-members of the United Nations. We were put to task to select the optimum number of films, for screening, due the understandable constraints. Accordingly, we have come out with 275 films (including 14 full length features and 261 short movies). The selection was done in an unprejudiced manner, so that all the genres/countries/themes are finding their respective spaces in the Festival.

LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

We are honoured to present the first Lifetime Achievement Award in Folklore Studies to Dr. C R Rajagopalan, the renowned and respected folklorist.

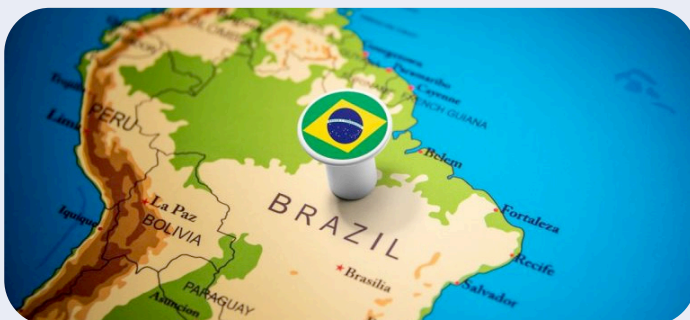

Dr. Rajagopalan, needs no introduction to the enlightened society of our state. As an internationally respected personality, Dr. Rajagopalan has dedicated his entire career to the study, propagation, and research in all the fields related to folklore. His contributions have been acknowledged by various national and international organizations. He has received the prestigious fellowship of the Ministry of Culture, Government of India for pursuing his research in the field of Performing Folklore Art Forms. Apart from this Dr. Rajagopalan's resourceful writings have been recognized as a Major Project of the University Grants Commission. He has directed documentary films, plays and has been instrumental in bringing out the folk songs and fables to light from the dark and unknown rural cultures.

As a part of the IFFT, we are extremely delighted to present the Lifetime Achievement Award in Folklore Studies (which we have instituted for the first time this year,) to Dr. C R Rajagopalan.

Country Focus

The 5th edition of the IFFF, is focusing on two nations, Iran and Brazil, both turbulent nations with disturbing and fearsome power centres. The films selected in this section are all representations of the socio-cultural dilemmas the citizens of the respective countries are encountering Islamic Republic of Iran has a rich film culture. Abbas Kiarastomi, Mohsin Makmalbaff are now acknowledged by the world as masters. Likewise, a group of youthful auteurs have made their mark in the Short film genre. In this edition we are screening 21 movies from Iran, all of them with well executed folk elements, both in theme and execution.

We have a few highlight films from Iran which is given below

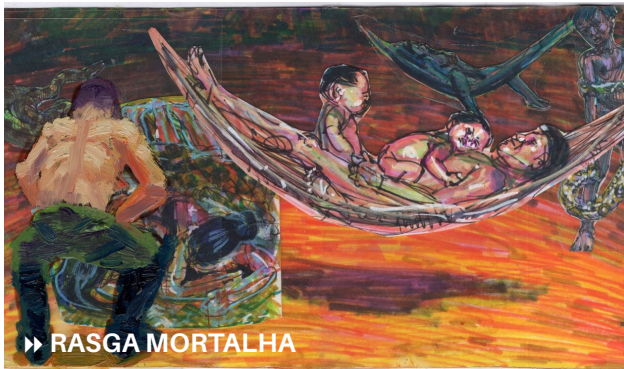

BRAZIL

Brazil has an evolving film tradition. Although they are late entrants in the short film genre, Brazil has travelled very far and can justifiably boast of having brought out remarkable movies. In this edition of IFFF we have received 18 entries from Brazil which are primarily based on folk traditions and cultures.

The highlight films from Brazil are:

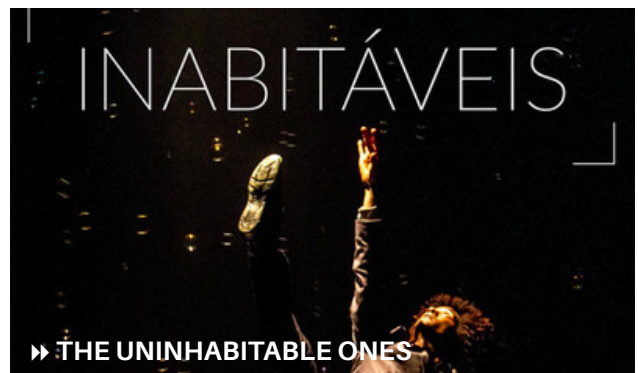

▶▶ RASGA MORTALHA

▶▶ THE WOODS THAT I BREATHE

▶▶ OSMILDO

▶▶ THE UNINHABITABLE ONES

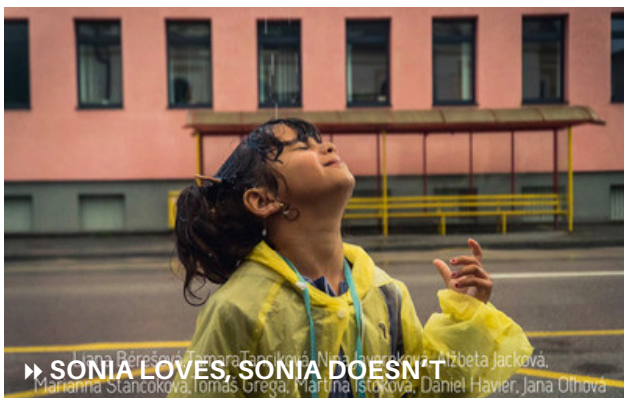

▶▶ WEAVING OUR PATHS

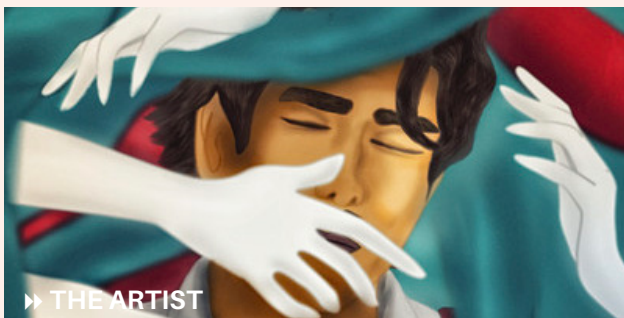

▶▶ THE DICTATORSHIP OF SPECULATION

WOMAN FILMS

ANIMATION FILMS

▶ THE ARTIST

▶ IWACU HEZA (WASHING HANDS)

▶ COLONIAL FEAR

▶ CANTARES

PERUMEEN

“Perumeen” is the flagship of the group named NAATTUKA-LAAKARA KOOTTAM (Ensemble of Rural Artists). The participation and contribution of this energetic group of enthusiasts have given the IFFF the added sparkle much needed for its acceptability. Last year the theme of PERUMEEN was LOCK DOWN, denoting the shocking and gruesome experience of humanity in the wake of Covid 19. This year, the world has been shocked to witness numerous events related to female lives. From female feticide to dowry murders, rapes, harassments – all these have shook the entire country. Hence, this time the theme adopted by PERUMEEN is none other than AVAL (SHE).

FULL LENGTH FEATURE FILMS

This time also, we are screening a few full length feature films, all of them sharing concerns and agonies of rural folk. 14 movies has been included in this section.:

SEMINARS.... OPEN FORUM SEMINAR

We are thankful to Dr. Jolly Pudussery, for having agreed to coordinate the Seminar, which we hope will be resourceful and informative for all.

Dr. Jolly Pudussery is the Associate Professor, Centre for Folklore Studies, University of Hyderabad and is a highly acclaimed scholar. He has been a Fulbright scholar, is a recipient of the Young Artist Award instituted by the Government of India. He has written, taught and acted in plays and has successfully guided researchers for their M Phil and PhD presentations. He has coordinated seminars on theatre and culture for in festivals, He has also penned books and articles which are considered as highly resourceful.

We are also delighted to have Dr. Justin Selvaraj, Dr. Yanbeni Yanthan and Dr. Nivea Thomas as speakers in the seminar.

Dr. Justin Selvaraj is the Assistant Professor in the Fine Arts and Aesthetics Department of Madurai Kamaraj University. His presentation is about "Brother Element in Recent Tamil Movies : A Cultural Explanation"

Dr. Nivea Thomas, Assistant Professor, English and Cultural Studies, Christ (Deemed to Be) University Bangalore will be speaking on "Legendric Narratives of Malayalam Cinema : A Study of Kadamattathu Kathanaar"

Dr. Yanbeni Yanthan Assistant Professor, English and Cultural Studies, Nagaland University, Kohima, presents his paper on Proverbial Wisdom of Lothas : Folklore Perspectives of Nagaland.

We also are organizing Open Forums in which we are roping in eminent personalities hailing from different fields, related to the theme of the festival. We solicit active participation from all enthusiasts so as to make the Forums meaningful and live.

CATEGORISATION

We have followed the similar methodology to categorize entries as we did in the 2021 edition, except that a few new categories have been added this time. Pandemic woes have wreaked havoc in the entire psyche of the world and as such we have categorized such entries in a new category which we have named "PANDEMIC LORE". "EARTH LORE", consists of films portraying rivers, sea, mountains and the struggle of communities to guard and sustain natural livelihoods. Likewise films depicting the trials and travails of urban populace find their place in URBAN LORE. Quite a good number of entries are depictions of the past, distant and near and those films fall into the category of HISTORY LORE. Similarly, the films included in "CARNIVAL" are those which have festivals and folk celebrations in their theme. ART AND FOLK, FOLK MUSIC, VILLAGE LIFE, ANIMAL RIGHTS AND CHILDHOOD categories are films where the respective subjects are depicted. Nowadays, biographies have transcended from literature to cinema and the categorization of BIO PIC has become necessary to the correct grouping of ideas. Finally, all those which cannot be included in the above categories have been grouped in MULTI CATEGORY. Thus, categorization has been devised with the same seriousness by which the entries were selected.
